PRESS RELEASE

October 15, 2009

BEAUTY FROM SIMPLICITY

TerraSur is a Forest Stewardship Council certified manufacturer

Live edge top with natural finish on robust hand-forged metal legs—Fortaleza is urban organic for interior spaces that derive beauty and strength from their simplicity.

Consumers who crave beauty close to its natural form will find peace and fortitude next to Fortaleza.

The two-and-a-half inch top is reclaimed ironwood, Algarrobo in Argentina. A species in danger of extinction, Algarrobo is a heavy, dense wood with multiple layers of interlaced pink, yellow and red. The top of Fortaleza evokes the passing of time deep in its grain.

Fortaleza is hand-made in Argentina, in TerraSur's factory in the Province of Santa Fe. No two table tops are alike, being, as they are, an irreplaceable part of a unique, fallen tree.

All Fortaleza tops are reclaimed. Their appeal is in their inherent beauty and their sustainable form.

"Fortaleza is our version of urban organic and our first step into sustainable, reclaimed manufacturing," says Jessica D. Holmstrom, owner and president of TerraSur, "It also shows the versatility of our design, manufacturing, and materials sourcing capabilities."

TerraSur's factory in Argentina is Forest Stewardship Council (FSC) chain-of-custody certified by the SmartWood program of the Rainforest Alliance (COC # 001206). TerraSur is also a member of the Sustainable Furnishings Council.
