PRESS RELEASE

MODERN MEETS OLD WORLD

Original art and Old World craftsmanship come together in this French-inspired piece to create an heirloom quality chest. Consumers craving to create intimate spaces far from the stifling sameness of mass produced furniture will breathe easy with the Vivien Chest.

Each of the three drawer panels is painted on canvas by Andres Dorigo, an artist in Santa Fe, Argentina. They are not copies or reproductions. They are original works of art.

The stark contrast of Dorigo's paintings against the deep, hand-antiqued Onyx finish gives the Vivien Chest a refreshing modern feel while the custom bronze drawer handles and distinctive French antique feet bring it back to its historical roots.

The Vivien Chest is 36" W x 18" D x 36"H. It has three drawers on wood side rails and stops. The drawer fronts are framed with moldings, as is the top. The solid wood feet are lathed and distressed by hand. The Onyx finish on the piece is hand applied and antiqued.

Vivien is crafted in a factory with over 20 years of furniture making experience. Nestled in the lush Pampas of northern Argentina, TerraSur's plant has craftspeople who trace their furniture making skills to their European ancestors, most of whom migrated to this region of Argentina in the mid-1800s.

"Vivien reflects who we are," says Jessica D. Holmstrom, TerraSur's owner and CEO. "The piece itself reflects the long tradition of craftsmanship in our factory while the design is the product of our creative team. We have our eye on what discerning consumers want most: original, genuine, hand-crafted furniture."
